Dear Dominion Salt Customer,

Dominion Salt – An Essential Business

We wish to advise you that as a key supplier into many essential industry sectors including food, pharmaceutical, primary production and water sanitation, Dominion Salt is classified as an essential business.

This means that our business will be operating and will continue to manufacture and distribute salt products into other essential businesses.

Our business critical staff are on site and working. We have a range of controls and hygiene practices in place to ensure their safety and prevent the spread of Covid-19. Non-operational staff are working remotely and can be contacted via our main phone number or through the usual email or mobile channels.

Please assist us in managing demand by placing future orders with as much lead-time as practical. All purchase orders should be emailed to: orders@domsalt.co.nz

We appreciate your business and thank you for your understanding in what is a challenging time for all. Please feel free to contact us should you have any questions.

Regards
